What is 5% page coverage?

ISO STANDARD

Page coverage ratings for toner and ink cartridges are based on ISO standards, which specify 5% coverage. This corresponds to approximately 14 complete lines of text printed in 11-point font on a single page.

It may seem obvious that the number of pages you can print with our cartridges depends on what you print on the page, but how much this number can vary isn't always clear.

In this material, you will find examples illustrating 5% page coverage.

What does the % page coverage look like?

If you primarily plan to print images, you need to consider that this will significantly reduce the number of pages (indicated on the cartridges) that you can print.
